Dear readers,

Regardless if it's Spain, Vietnam, Chile, or Japan - discovering countries, sharing cultures, and moving closer together is a wonderful experience. Even if Covid 19 has limited our ability to do certain things in person, we can still travel to the world through books, learn new languages, and be inspired by other cultures and perspectives.

That is why we here at Ravensburg City Library would like to introduce you to our wide range of "foreign language services". These services range from foreign language magazines, to children's books, to CDs and more. Furthermore, we would like to introduce to you our digital services "Press Reader" and "Brockhaus online".

We hope you enjoy your journey through our services and that you will, above all, stay healthy!

Kind regards

Your team from the Ravensburg City Library

Our Foreign Language Services

The Ravensburg City Library has a large number of different media which can be used for foreign language learning or for readers who already speak a foreign language, for example novels, books for children and young adults, learning aids, DVD's, CD's and our online services. To give you a better overview of our analog and digital media in this area, we have provided you with a small overview (with some tutorials) in our download area.

We hope you will keep on reading, learning and discovering!

Our book recommendation of the month

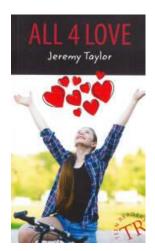

© Coppenrath Verlag

"Kinder unserer Welt: 12 Kinder stellen sich in ihrer Landessprache vor"; written by Schultze, Miriam:

In this book, 12 children from 12 countries around the world introduce and talk about themselves. They recount various aspects about their lives such as where they live, their lifestyles, what their parents work as, their favorite foods, how they play, as well as local festivals and rituals. The book includes a sound bank in the following languages: Hindi, Chinese, Lingala, French, Spanish, English, Turkish, Arabic, Russian, Italian, Swedish and German.

"All 4 Love"; written by Taylor, Jeremy:

Tom and Emily cycle from England to Denmark via the Netherlands and Germany exploring the cultural differences and insights between neighbouring european countries along the way. Fourteen-year-old Emily cant believe her luck as she meets two boys on the way, but soon figures out the problems that come with young love. A humerous take on the travelogue genre for young adult readers with monolingual English vocabulary aids, black-and-white illustrations, and exercises at the end.
